unite to save the beauty!

The partners of the Orchestra, the biggest concert halls in Moscow

Moscow Philharmonic Society

The Philharmonic society is working on giving the opportunity to the audience to be part of the worldwide musical process, presenting the greatest musical phenomena in the world as well as realizing the creative potential of the Russian musicians. All those factors contribute to the formation of the musical environment for both musicians and audience. It is the variety and the quality of the musical instrumental culture that defines the general cultural level of the country.

MOSCOW INTERNATIONAL PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

This is an independent producers association which organizes concerts of Russian and foreign symphonic orchestras, chamber ensembles, instrumental soloists, opera and ballet soloists, theatrical, jazz, pop and folk ensembles. It has three halls - Svetlanov Hall, Chamber Hall and Theatre Hall. They host concerts and performances, big international forums and recitals, presentations and festive events, conferences and corporate meetings.

Tchaikovsky Concert Hall

Tchaikovsky Concert Hall is more than 70 years old. Its building, on Triumphal Square, at the intersection of Tverskaya Street and the Garden Ring, was constructed on the site occupied at the beginning of the 20th century by the famous Bouffe-Miniature Theater of Charles Aumon.

Tchaikovsky Concert Hall, located on Triumphalnaya Square, is one of the biggest concert halls in Russia. It is the Moscow Philharmonia's main concert platform seating 1505 people.

As of the beginning of the XXI century Tchaikovsky Concert Hall is considered to be the main concert hall of the Moscow Philharmonia. 300 concerts, attended by 350 000 Moscovites and visitors of the capital, are held in it every year.

Tchaikovsky Concert Hall has been chosen to hold Moscow Philharmonia's exclusive cycles including the Musica Viva's cycle "Masterpieces and Premieres"

Philharmonia-2

Philharmonia-2 its brand new concert hall. The venue is located at Grand Concert Hall of Moscow Olympic Village (Michurinsky Prospekt 1, Olympic Village).

Philharmonia-2 in the Olympic village was opened on the 23 December 2014. It got its name due to the fact that it has become one of the main concert platforms of the biggest and the most influential Russian manager in the area of academic music - the Moscow State Academic Philharmonia.

The Rachmaninov Hall is equipped with module acoustic basin which provides perfect sound for both symphonic orchestras and chamber ensembles. The stage is easily transformed. It is equipped with lighting and sound systems and it has full scale theater backstage, which is beneficial compared to other concert halls.

The infrastructure of the Philharmonia-2 is also thoroughly planned. There are comfortable cloakrooms, foyers, information stands, buffets and cafes for the audience.

The hall seats 1040 people.
